

The Funeral of W. J. Huff

There was a large congregation present on Wednesday afternoon at the M. E. Church South at Gilliam to pay the last sad rites to one who was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends and neighbors. The service which was conducted by Rev. D. Bolton of this city was held in the Methodist church on account of it being larger than the Baptist house of worship. Deceased had been reared in the Baptist faith and was a member of that church. The burial was in the Gilliam cemetery and the pallbearers were: Robt. H. Land, Wm. T. Swinney, John W. McKinney, Frank M. Heinzler, Daniel Brightwell, Lee Kitchen, James Crumbaugh, James R. Daniel.

[From: Marshall Weekly Democrat News, 4 Dec 1913, 5/4]

The Funeral of W. J. Huff.
There was a large congregation present on Wednesday afternoon at the M. E. Church South at Gilliam to pay the last sad rites to one who was highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends and neighbors. The service which was conducted by Rev. D. Bolton of this city, was held in the Methodist church on account of it being larger than the Baptist house of worship. Deceased had been reared in the Baptist faith and was a member of that church. The burial was in the Gilliam cemetery and the pallbearers were: Robt. H. Land, Wm. T. Swinney, John W. McKinney, Frank M. Heinzler, Daniel Brightwell, Lee Kitchen, James Crumbaugh, James R. Daniel.