

VIC COLIN, SR., DEAD

Well-Known Boonville Barber Died After Paralytic Stroke.

Vic Colin, Sr., who suffered a paralytic stroke Monday evening, died on Tuesday evening at his home here. Mr. Colin was born in St. Louis September 29, 1849 and came to Boonville while a young man. He engaged in the barber business with his brother-in-law, Eugene Pallon and had been in this business since that time. He was one of the pioneer residence of Boonville and was well-known to residents of Cooper county.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and the W. O. W. order. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the residence, conducted by the Rev. O. E. Vivion. Interment was in Walnut Grove cemetery. The pall bearers were Al Nicol, C. W. Journey, E. B. Rippeto, W. Roessler, Harry Reed and Fred Lohse.

Surviving Mr. Colin are two sons, Ed and Vic, Jr., three grandchildren, Graydon, Elizabeth and Hazel, two sisters, Mrs. O'Mara of Chicago and Mrs. Eugene Pallon of St. Louis.
