"But you have to realize," he added, "much of the violence there, whether from the extreme right or left, is beyond the control of the government. El Salvador is moving in the right direction."

"To give democracy and development a chance to work in the face of increasing attacks, we are providing a shield of military training and assistance to help our neighbors protect themselves," Reagan said. He called for Congress to join him in fulfilling that "moral responsibility."

The president's announcement follows several weeks of trying to sell his anti-communist crusade to an increasingly skeptical Congress.

One source said the commission was agreed upon in negotiations with members of Congress as the ad-
