PREFACE

Montgomery county, Missouri, was organized December 14, 1818, by the Territorial Legislature in session at St. Louis. It was formed from St. Charles county and included Warren and a portion of Audrain and Callaway counties until the formation of the latter when the county was reduced to its present size of approximately 327,000 acres. The county seat is Montgomery City, located near the center of the county on the Kansas City-St. Louis line of the Wabash Railroad and State Highway No. 19.

The county was named in honor of General Richard Montgomery, who fell at Quebec during the Revolution.

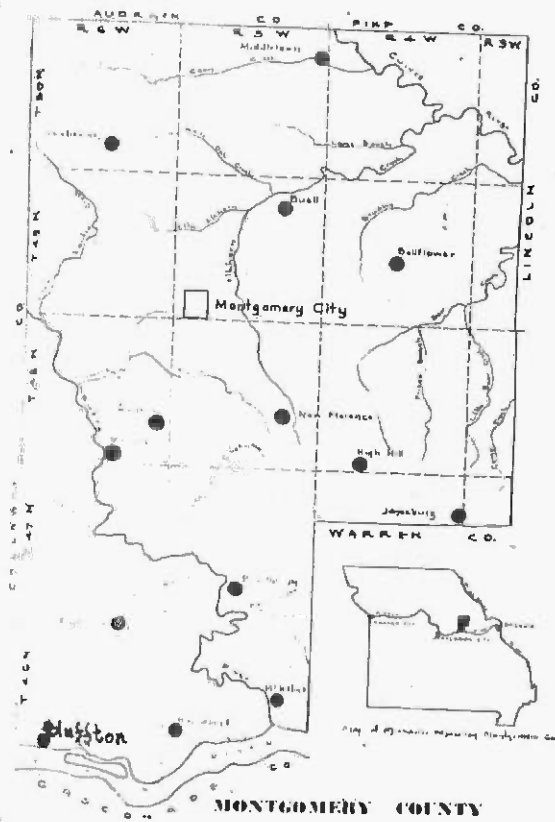

The settlers were from Kentucky, Virginia and Germany, with few exceptions. The German settlement, which was along the Missouri River, was attracted there by the "Reports" of Duden.

Land entries shown in this booklet are those made within the present limits of the county. Most of the land was purchased from the Government thru the land office at Palmyra. There were a few Spanish Grants, among them one to Daniel M. Boone, a son of the pioneer Daniel Boone, in the vicinity of Mineola.

The date of entry follows the name of the entryman, with the section, township and range shown in the right-hand column, in order. All townships are north, and ranges west from the Fifth Principal meridian. In cases where the same name appeared several times the date and location of the earliest entry is shown unless considerable time or distance intervened between entries, in such cases the name is shown twice.

Grateful acknowledgement is made to Mr. Howard N. Gentry, county clerk, for his willing assistance and co-operation during the compilation of this work.

HARRIS B. DICKEY,
Montgomery City, Mo.
August tenth, 1937.
