Introduction

Polk County was organized in 1835 and has, at various times, been a part of Franklin (1818), Gasconade (1820), Crawford (1829), and Greene County (1833).

The records here presented are transcribed from a microfilm copy of the original register, filmed by the compiler, in the office of the Recorder in Polk County Court House at Bolivar, Missouri.

Book "A", containing about 1460 marriages, covers the years 1836 through 1859. The book has been well preserved but in some sections the script is poor. There is an excellent index which was probably prepared long after the records were entered, also an "inverted" index listing the marriages under the name of the bride. In addition, the surnames of both bride and groom are written into the margin of the book, giving the reader an opportunity to make a thorough comparison of the different scripts and variations in spelling.

The compiler has tried to copy the names exactly as they are spelled in the original register, making no changes, even though it is obvious that many of the names were misspelled. In some instances the name shown in the index or margin does not seem to agree with that given in the marriage entry. Where that occurs the index version is placed in brackets immediately following. A reader should consider all possible spellings of a name. Often it is almost impossible to tell an "o" from an "a", an "e" from "i", a "J" from "I", and "S" from "L", etc.

In the earlier publications of this "Marriage Series", the compiler gave the page numbers of the original book, because a few entries, or sometimes many pages, were omitted from the index, or the index itself was incomplete, and thus knowing the original page would be of value in securing a certification of a marriage. However, with an excellent index, and in view of the fact that for the first few years there was only one or two entries on a page, it would not be practical or necessary to include the numbers in this publication.

All information of genealogical interest has been abstracted. It is assumed that the parties were residents of Polk County unless otherwise stated.

A "Key" to the names of ministers and officials who performed the ceremonies will be found in this book, beginning on page 45. The names are listed alphabetically and will not appear in the surname index that follows.

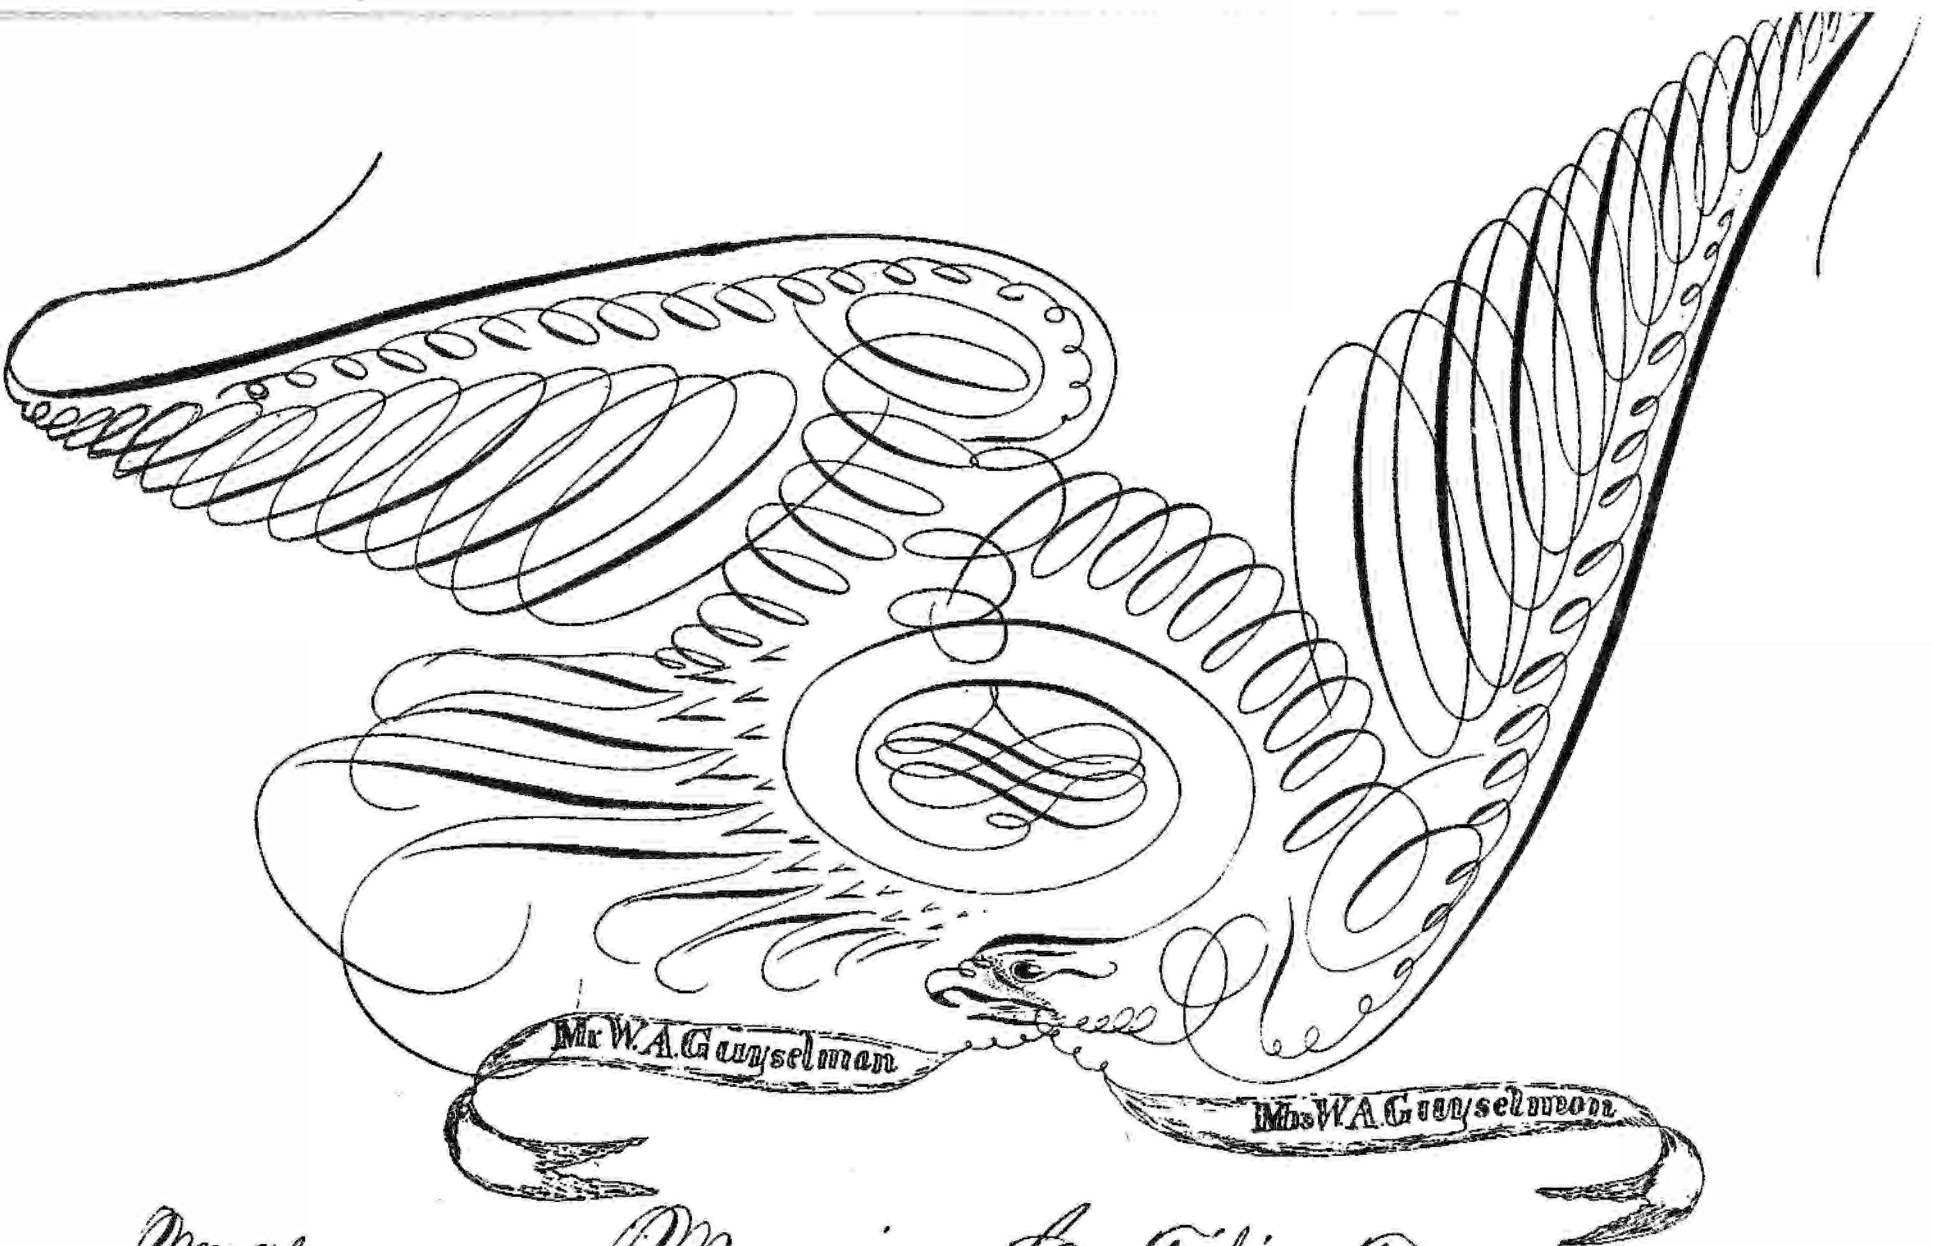

The pen drawings used in this book are the work of William A. Guyselman, Recorder of Macon County, Missouri, 1860-1870, and are included in Marriage Book "E" of Macon County.
