INTRODUCTION

The idea for this book was founded in the individual thinking of each author. When we combined our ideas, they grew to this completion. This has taken quite a long time but it has been a pleasure and we hope you will read it with the understanding that it would be impossible to find all of the graves in Reynolds County. When the county was formed in 1845, there had been people here for a long time. Many people had died and were buried near their homes. A large number of these were children, and graves were marked with field stones. Sometimes a sandstone was carved by hand with a name and date or an emblem such as a star or a cross. In any event, there are many times more unmarked than marked graves. We have been helped by a few people to whom we are grateful. We think the persons in unmarked graves deserve some recognition, and we are dedicating this book to them.

Ellington City Cemetery was published in 1976 and is not included in this book; but a recent update is here. Order from us, if you need the Ellington book.

_____ as shown on stone

Unmarked graves are shown at the end of cemetery as recorded (Someone has told us of this information)

Not all funeral home markers are noted as being such.

Stones with only initials have been included and indexed.

Most unusual stone is sketched on front page with a star. It is in Ratliff Cemetery.

The oldest date we have found is found in West Fork, that of William Sutterfield, 1840 death date

MAPS are in back of book.

Alwood Cemetery located south of Junction 21 & 34 toward end of county line for Reynolds - Dirt road to right sign marks road = Very well kept and Old.

In a field on the farm orinally owned by George & Ferby Mann near Redford is a single stone. Copied by Glenda Stockton 1978

George Mann 1804 Feb 29 1883
Ferby Mann 1818 1894 wife of George Mann

Note: Ferby was Ferby Casey, married a Lewis first, second George Mann.

Jane Callahan Cemetery on Hwy PP near Greely Mo. Reynolds County. Small cemetery fairly well kept. Seems to be quite old & has some field stons next to Black River Lumber Co. Most likely this was a farm at one time near a house. Copied by Delsa Lesh & Glenda Stockton Oct 1979.

Callahan Jane died 1932 January

GRASSHOPPER HOLLOW (now being called Johnson Cemetery) - Hwy 72 to TT on west side of Reynolds County, north on TT to first dirt road on the right. Turn right there will be a dirt road into this road about halfway to cemetery. Cross two low water bridges. Cemetery is not marked at road but sits on a hill to right up small dirt road. Not totally kept, many graves in tall weeds and grass, small brush. Very difficult to locate some stones due to grass in the fall of 1981. Copied by Delsa Lesh and Glenda Stockton.

** Many of the field stones here are because Ed Mann knew who they were in full or in part and he carved the stones and put them on the graves. Some were done by others in family Many are so faint they can hardly be read.

Stout Samuel M. July 16 1863 Dec. 16 1863
Son of Katie and Samuel Stout

Note: Samuel Stout was killed by Jayhawkers near his home during Civil War. He left one son by a first marriage, one daughter and two sons by a second marriage and was living with his third wife Katie Mc Cleod at the time of his death. His unborn son by Katie is the baby named here. Katie later married John Callahan.

Strickland Cemetery - Imboden Fork near St. Marys Chapel. We could not ford the river to this cemetery. However, these names are known to be there. There are others, unmarked and with stones, but we do not know other than this group of names. Have been told the cemetery is to be cleaned and put in good repair this year (1982).

Strickland (Also known as Crowder Cemetery) Reynolds Co. Mo in Northern part of the county North of Oates in the Woods at the Iron County Line. Very beautiful spot for a cemetery but needs care badly. No roads to this Cemetery River has to be waded then walk through the woods. Very difficult to find. Copied by Jim Bell for us.

West Fork Sutterfield Cemetery Located near Black river West Fork on a dirt road about a mile off K even with the Fletcher Mines of St. Joseph Mines. Very Very old and exceptionally well kept. It appears the oldest marked grave in this cemetery is 1840. The old original stone is there but has been replaced with a new one. Many old graves no longer marked with fieldstones but they have been replaced with concrete blocks flush with the ground to make grass cutting and care easier. SOME RARE FINDS

we found this bit of information which later added to our records.

Anybody lost a tombstone? Daniel Wadlow, who lives on Middlebrook route 1 on Highway N fieve miles from Barney's Bait shop says that when he moved there 5 years ago there was a headstone and footstone in his smokehouse, and are still there.

Anyone proving ownership may have them. The inscription reads: J.N.Russell husband of S. Russell died Nov 30 1866 age 52 years.

The footstone has only the initials. If he was 52years old in 1866., then he would have been born in 1814. The stones have been imbedded in the ground at sometime because there are clay remnants on the bottom.

****

From the Mountain Echo Wednesday May 19 1982 BACKTRACKING by Edna Bond Ripley

The lost tombstone has found its original home which was in the old cemetery at the Johnson shut-ins. Seems that the stones, head and foot, were removed a few years ago to make room for a fence that was being installed. The remains are still there, and the tombstone will be replaced. Mr. Wadlow deserves commendations for reporting the existence of the headstones which was in his smokehouse.

*****

There are other cemeteries where complete records have been removed by the moving of stones. We have been told of several where this has happened.
At times the Base is left or sometimes the stones have been removed completely.
Have they fallen over and been covered with dirt? Have they been stacked in a corner? Have even heard where some have been found in springs. Often times the cemetery is in a field being used by livestock and not protected and the wage of time takes its tole. I thank Edna for letting us use this article to show that from time to time not all is lost even if it is just one at this time.

Hopefully others will know where there are stones and report the information to us so we can add them to our records.

Miscellaneous Notes

We were told of an old cemetery where there were home made sand stones of a family who were all found dead in their home by neighbors. They were not local people and the neighbors did not know who to contact. The family was buried by their friends and then they carved sand stones and dates for the dead. There were 5 dead. We tried to find the stones but the sage grass growth made it impossible to see them. This was said to be late 1800's. The family name was CLAUSE.

*****

There is another cemetery just north of the counts cemetery but we could not get across the creek to get to it for finding the information. We were advised not to go with out a truck or jeep the creek bottom is soft.

*****

There is a PARKS family Cemetery on a farm N.W. of the Estep Cemetery on a private farm. We could not get to it and the owner of the land said the only way to get back there was to know how to find it and have a truck or 4 wheel drive.

*****

SMIL cemetery is located on Sanders farm below Lesterville. Several years ago the stones were overturned and this was open pasture. Even at that time stones had to be dug out and some information read but they can no longer be found nor can the information.

*****

Kohn Cemetery on the farm of Nora Harrison it is said the graves are quite old and not marked. We could not find any information on any of the family.

*****

The family name of Brown might not be right but we were told that there is a Brown cemetery in the pasture by the old silo on the old Dobbins farm. No markers or trace of the cemetery is now there. Evidently all covered.

*****

2 miles or 2½ miles south of Semetter Cemetery in a field there are two field stones, said to be an old man and his wife by the name of Null. This could possibly be the graves of Daniel and Sarah Null they did live in that area and in 1860 he is 54 and she 47.

*****

Cook cemetery we have been told is on the old Cook Farm near the Little Radford Cemetery. We were to the area and the people confirmed where it was and that at one time there were stones but they are now gone. Most likely fallen over and overgrown.

*****

There is a very old cemetery said to have an Indian buried there. directly behind the old jail at Centerville. One of the long time residents said even as a boy there were stones there (field) but none of the old timers of that time even knew who was there. Now there are big trees and a slight trace of several graves.

*****

The older members of the Mann Family have always been told by their older relatives of the Indians there when they settled on Black River. There is an old indian burial ground just north east of the Mann Cemetery. An Old map of 1816 shows a tribe of Delaware living on the forks of Black River. Also There is a journal written and reprinted in a Missouri historical review magazine where a man traveled south from Potosi to Arkansas and found Delawares.

*****

There is an old Gallaher Cemetery on the west bank of Black River north of Black on a farm. We were unable to ford the river or get information on the cemetery.

*****

We are glad for what we have been able to find. There are many graves in the county of early settlers lost to the ages. Only God knows where they are and the people there.
